A report made by Zhustupov, secretary of the Kurchumskiy Rayon Committee KP(b) Kazakhstan, at the Eleventh Kurchumskiy Rayon Party Conference indicated that the rayon's economy is one of the most poorly run in Vostochno-Kazakhstan Oblast. The rayon had a very poor harvest in 1948, failing to give many thousand puds of grain to the State, and did not fulfill the plan for delivery of products of animal husbandry. The Rayon Committee is largely fault for this condition by its failure to study the economy of kolkhozes and by its appointment of inefficient and unsuitable kolkhoz directors.

success in mobilizing kolkhoz workers in 1948, but many delegates to the conference criticized the organizations' failure to give sufficient attention to the rayon's industrial enterprises, including the Belousovka Mine, the railroad terminal, and trade artels.

The Party organizations have strengthened labor discipline on the kolkhozes. Every kolkhoz worker is subject to the law that he must not leave the work area until the daily task is completed, with the result that preparations for spring sowing are progressing satisfactorily.

The main report at the Twelfth Shemonaikhinskiy Rayon Party Conference was given by Polipov, secretary of the Shemonaikhinskiy Rayon Committee KP(b) Kazakhstan. Party organizations in the rayon are doing considerable work to educate the masses. There are 18 political study groups, 43 political schools, and a night party school in the rayon, and almost all Communists are taking some sort of political course.

The 32 delegates who gave reports at the conference criticized the Bureau of the Rayon Committee, its secretaries, and the workers in the Organization and Instruction Division of the Rayon Committee for failure to advance young Communists. There are 255 candidates for membership in the VKP(b) in the rayon, but the majority of them have long passed the candidate stage in experience and eight of them have been candidates since before the war.

LENINGORSK CITY PARTY CONFERENCE -- Bol'shevik Altaya, No 20, 1 Feb 49

The Tenth Leninogorsk City Party Conference was held on 29-30 January 1949 with the main report given by Svyadoshch, secretary of the Leninogorsk City Committee KP(b) Kazakhstan. Bondarenko, secretary of the Party bureau at the Sokol'nyy Mins; Drankin, secretary of the Party bureau at the Leninogorsk Mine; and Skorobogat'ko, chairman of the construction committee at the "Energokombinatstroy" (Construction of Power Combines), pointed out that the chief error of the Leninogorsk City Party Committee in the past year has been its failure to maintain close contact with the primary Party organizations and the majority of Communists in the city. Many new directors of primary Party organizations have been appointed in the past year, but the city committee has done nothing to assist them in overcoming their lack of Party experience.

Many delegates to the conference criticized the city committee for the low level of political education work in the city.
